- The policy handbook committee will be reviewing our policies, as well as policies from other communities. Members of the committee are Mike Pavely, Chris Fields, Paul David Smith, Ann Copley, a representative from the private sector, and myself.
CLERK-TREASURER’S REPORT * * *

Copley passed out a list of encumbrances to be carried over to this year’s budget. Sheehan made a motion to approve the encumbrances as presented. Pavey seconded the motion. Motion carried.

Copley said that she had spoken with the Mayor regarding carrying forward money from the 2004 budget for the Rainy Day Fund. Their opinion was to carry forward $37,802.92, which was revenue, received from riverboat funds. She said if Council was interested in transferring any other monies to the Rainy Day Fund they should let her know before the next meeting.

Reminded the Department Heads to turn in their updated inventory to her.

COUNCIL PRESIDENT REPORT * * *

Pavey said the Planning and Zoning is at the same impasse and they are working on mapping.

Handbook Policy is in progress of being revised. He urged Department Heads to get any suggestions in to committee members.

Regarding the release of the bond for Bennett and Bennett, testing is being completed. Pavey suggested that the City not release any more than 75% and not to release that portion until written reports have been received. Fields moved to have the City Engineer review the work prior to the release of the bond. Pavey seconded the motion. Motion carried.

COMMITTEE REPORTS * * *

Sheehan said the wage study is progressing. He is now receiving job descriptions. He will continue to report to Council as to the progress. He said he was pleased with the cooperation he has received. He will continue meeting with all departments.
